Jay P. Cahalan

35th Annual Hospital Ball Honoree

Clara Kellner Award Recipient

Jay P. Cahalan

Jay retired from Columbia Memorial Health in December 2022 after 28 years of service, ten of those years as President/CEO, and eighteen years as Chief Operating Officer.

Jay has been instrumental in CMH strategy and a part of every major initiative since the mid 1990's.

During his tenure, he led the development of Columbia Memorial Health's Primary Care and Multi-Specialty Physician Network, transforming CMH from an inpatient centered community hospital to a clinically integrated community health system. He was part of the team that expanded facilities and services on the Hudson Campus and was key to the acquisition and development of the Catskill and Valatie Campus locations. Directly involved with initiating CMH's several medical satellite locations, Jay's efforts helped create CMH's unique network of coordinated clinical services. In 2016, CMH became the first hospital to formalize a strategic affiliation with Albany Medical Center and was later joined by Saratoga and Glens Falls Hospitals, which with Albany Medical Center Hospital, and the Albany Visiting Nurses Association, now comprises the Albany Med Health System.

A natural team builder, Jay's leadership style has helped attract the best and the brightest to CMH. Jay continues to serve CMH as a Foundation Trustee and is an active member on several community organizations including, the Bank of Greene County Board of Directors. Jay resides in Athens with his wife, Leila.

The Hospital and Foundation Board of Trustees are honored to present the 2023 Clara Kellner Award to Jay P. Cahalan in recognition of his exceptional leadership and devoted service to Columbia Memorial Health.

We facilitate enrollment in health insurance and help with the cost of prescription meds and bills
